The 1910 census shows that Sarah's marriage to Walter Leahy was her second while it was his first. In the 1900 census, daughter Cora was 19 and they had been married only 9 years. Cora was probably a child from Sarah's first marriage but she has the name Leahy. However, the two younger children, who are from her second marriage to Walter, have the surname on Froman. The census enumerator might have the surnames of the children reversed. Froman is probably Sarah's name from her first marriage and Cora should be the Froman while Florence and John were the Leahys.
